Perspective Studies, Day 5 - Solo Excerpt

A broadcast by Surfatial, the collective of Satya Gummuluri, Malavika Rajnarayan and me, 6 July 2014. Watch on YouTube

I made this transcript by machine from the recording and corrected it against the recording's description and my own records. I have not checked the words by ear. I checked a sample of the speaker names by ear, and corrected those I heard differently. [?] marks a word still in doubt and [unclear] a passage that could not be made out. A speaker is named only where the broadcast's screen or the recording's own words say who is speaking. Fillers such as "uh" and "um" are left out. Times are from the start of the recording.

00:02 SPEAKER 1 So it seems that this broadcast has been jinxed, you know, so we were hearing an echo, and then suddenly we wanted to call back in, and I pressed the stop broadcast button, and I didn't know I would be able to start it again. So the broadcast went off, and here I am talking to myself. You know, I've never been able to really talk to myself, you know, so it's there is a singular voice in my head. There are no multiple voices. So when I, you know, when...

00:58 You know, when we have the question, what is, what does experience feel like? You know, it's very easy for you to say, experience feels like my voice, because my voice is the only thing I feel.
